Treasure Stories

with Jim Flanagan

Discover the secrets of writing and amaze both family and friends. Write stories of pirate treasure, gold and haunted places.

Mr. Flanagan is a national award-winning storyteller and author. Before becoming a storyteller and author, he was a teacher and middle school principal.

Everyday Science

with Anita Shively

Amazing science is everywhere. Come examine and explore science that can be found in one's everyday life.

Mrs. Shively, a former teacher with 36 years of experience, taught at the elementary level including many years of gifted inclusion. She now leads student-teacher workshops.

Draw Ghostly Ghouls

with Steve Harpster

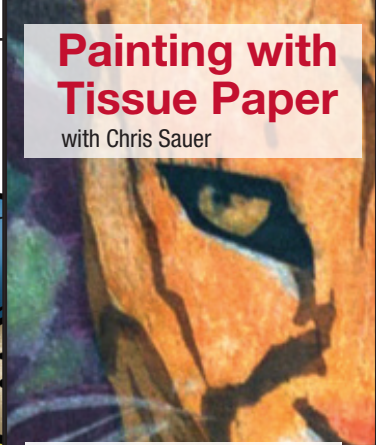

Draw a haunted house, write about characters, set up a story and draw all kinds of creepy, spooky stuff. Participants will also go home with a copy of Mr. Harpster's latest book.

Mr. Harpster has illustrated more than 90 books for kids and his art appears on everything from puzzles to T-shirts. For more of his work, visit www.studioharpster.com.

Painting with Tissue Paper

with Chris Sauer

Learn about all the seemingly magical tessellations of M.C. Escher. Students will create a piece of artwork after learning the mystery of tessellations.

Mr. Sauer is a life-long drawer, painter and creator of art. At Grandview Heights City Schools, Sauer teaches art to elementary, middle and high school students.
